

Mailbox Lock help for bundle bins or Condo panels.

If you need a new mailbox lock, lost keys or never received them there are a few helpful options to use:

1. Check to see if the lock is silver or gold in color (most are silver). Most good Hardware stores have these locks. Go to the lock section and look for Mailbox Locks. You will choose the correct color and the cost is somewhere under $15.
  - There is one small scheduling issue to go along with this option. You will need to meet the Mail Carrier to have them open the panel. Once there, provide proof of residence and the lock is generally very easy to replace.
  - Lock comes with 2 new keys in package.
  - It is also possible to meet the Mail Carrier prior to going to the store and remove lock first. Once new lock is purchased, the panel will then be able to open without the lock to allow the new lock to be installed without extra delay.

- (Image is just a basic style for reference)

2. Locksmith. Any locksmith can handle this issue. The normal cost is in the neighborhood of $100.
3. Last option could be having the lock drilled out privately and then replace as detailed above.